Happy Father's Day! June 20th

Don't forget you dad this month! June 20th is Father's Day. I don't know about your dad, but my dad is a hard one to shop for. What can you give someone, who has given you so much? Just remember, they just want to be remembered! So pick up that phone, send them a card, or if he's close, give him a great big hug! Those "little" things will mean a lot and make him smile!

Happy Dad's Day!

Schools Out & Summers Here!

I am as bad as the kids, counting the days down to summer vacation! ☺ And it's here! School let out the end of May. That means our schedule is a little less structured. Bed times don't seem to be as important, paper plates and eating outside are the norm, and there isn't a huge rush to be here and there at a certain time. So our walks can be more leisurely, we can take a little longer to wake up and we can plan all those fun summer outings; like camping, rafting, and I can't forget the grandsons T-ball games. Who wouldn't love summer?!?! We don't have a ton of plans this summer, as you know, I still have to work and keep all the new items coming into the store. ☺ We will make time for campfires, smores, and more. My parents are coming for a visit so we get to play tourists in Branson. ☺ Just being outside in the sun is just perfect for me.

As you know, our youngest received her driver's license, and she is a great driver. She has taken another big growing up step. She has her first "real" summer job. No more working for mom and dad at the scrapbook store. ☺ It will be good for her, and she'll come back every now and then to help us out at the store. ☺ You will still see pictures of her throughout the store in the layout samples. She is a really good subject for all my layout pages. ☺ I guess we want them to grow up and be independent and she is a good one. She is doing great and we are so proud of her. ☺

What's New???

It is so fun to work in a place where new products come in all the time! I just love it!! ☺
